

HOBSON WANTS MORE VESSELS

Hero Of The Santiago Bay Episode Wants Better Naval Protection For The Coast.

MAKES SPEECH FAVORING HIS PLAN

Would Build Two More Battleships of Twenty-Five Thousand Tons, To Be Placed In Commission
As Soon As Possible.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., April 7.—Pointing out what he declared to be the precarious condition of the national defense of the United States both in the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans,
Mr. Hobson of Alabama in the House
of Representatives made an earnest
plea for two battleships of 25,000 tons
displacement in addition to the two
authorized by the naval appropriation bill. He said that a conservative estimate would indicate that for the minimum basis of security and safety in the Pacific ocean the United States
should lay down at least four big
ships a year for many years to come,
"until Japan concedes to us what is inevitable—the American control of the sea around which our possessions
are scattered." As a minimum
for the Atlantic ocean the government should lay down six battleships
a year, he said. Hobson, the weakness of the American navy, the displacement of the nation's defense
had not been fatal to its growth
and development, because the oceans
constituted a great barrier between America and the armies of the world.
"Now, however," said he, "the oceans
have been bridged and the armies of the world have been brought to our doors, and along with the armies of the older nations of Europe have come
the armies of the ancient nations of Asia." He said that where America
formerly lived more or less in isolation,
she is now exciting the jealousy,
of other great nations in threatening
their supremacy in commerce, industry and finance. In addition, he declared that recent events have thrown us into the political vortex of
the world, and that the dangers of being unprepared are becoming greater
and greater with each succeeding year.

After calling attention to America's lack of a merchant marine, which
could be used as auxiliaries in time
of war, and of the importance necessary
for properly conducting war operations, Mr. Hobson said:
"We have almost no standing army
and could not prevent the seizure by
a foreign power of a harbor on our
shore or near our shores, to be used as a naval base; whereas it would be practically impossible for America to secure a naval base for operations in European waters. Forts, mines, torpedoes, torpedo boats and submarines
are valuable necessities, but such defenses have never stopped a determined commander of a great fleet. They did not stop Nelson at Copenhagen,
nor Farragut at Mobile Bay, nor Dewey
at Manila. Such defenses never determine the issue of a war, and have no
weight in deterring an enemy from seeking war. The forts that we have
are woefully unarmament, whereas the troops needed for other landward defense could not be mobilized within
the time necessary."

The possibility of a conflict with Japan was discussed at length by Mr.
Hobson. He said it was but perfectly natural for Japan to aspire to dominate the commerce of China, the commerce of Asia and of the Pacific ocean. And he added it was perfectly natural for Japan to seek to control the politics of China and to attain supremacy in the Pacific ocean,
and to lead the yellow race toward a
recognized supremacy in the world.
With regard to the great nations
of the white race, Mr. Hobson said,
"It is, of course, clear to the Japanese
statesman that America is the one great nation standing athwart of the realization of these ambitions. It is true that America only asks a fair chance and no favor—simply the open-
door policy in China—but this policy
goes counter to Japanese ambitions."
The United States, said Mr. Hobson,
must accept Japan's protestations
of friendship, and we should most cordially reciprocate friendly
feelings and should realize that if any breach should come between the two countries it would be our fault, on

FUNERAL DIRECTORS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Iowa Funeral Directors' Association Holds 23th Annual Convention.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Sioux City, Ia., April 7.—A jolly crowd of visitors from all over the state filled the Y. M. C. A. auditorium
this morning at the opening of the twenty-eighth annual convention of the Iowa Funeral Directors' association. President Leo V. Myers called
the gathering to order at 10 o'clock,
and after an invocation and several
selections of music the visitors listened
to an address of welcome by Mayor
Sears and a response by Frank L.
Duggard of Ottumwa. These formal-ties disposed of, the convention took
up the regular program of business,
including papers and discussions on
methods of embalming and other
branches of the undertaking business.
The convention will be in session
three days.

HARTFORD ELECTION AROUSSES INTEREST

Socialistic Candidate Is Again Running For Office of Mayor
of City.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Hartford, Conn., April 7.—The municipal election in this city today follows a campaign of more than ordinary interest. The republican candidate for mayor is Edward W. Hooker,
whose platform calls for a continuation of the policy of the present administration. "The democratic candidate is Ignatius A. Sullivan, whose election to the mayoralty six years ago attracted national attention. Sullivan's platform leans toward the socialistic doctrine, with municipal ownership, free text books and kindred
ideas included among its planks.

MEETS WITH MANY DELEGATES THERE

South Dakota Sunday School Association Holds Annual Convention.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Brookings, S. D., April 7.—This city capitulated today before an invading host of enthusiastic delegates
came to attend the annual convention of the South Dakota Sunday School association. Every arriving train
brought its quota of visitors, who represented among them every county of the state. On their arrival in the city the visitors were escorted to the First Presbyterian church, where they were registered and assigned to families who are entertaining.
Business of a preliminary nature
occupied the day. The formal opening of the convention has been reserved for tonight, when a monster
welcome demonstration takes place,
with addresses by several noted Sunday school workers.

MANY ELECTIONS IN THE MIDDLE WEST

Practically All Cities and Towns in Middle West Are Holding Spring Elections.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., April 7.—Cities and towns throughout a large section of the Middle West are holding their spring elections today. From Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota in the north to states as far south as Oklahoma, and in most of the states in
the intervening territory, elections of
some sort or another are in progress
today.

Milwaukee and several other cities
of first importance are to elect mayors and other municipal officers. In Chicago the election is only for aldermen.

In Wisconsin delegates to the national republican convention are being voted for and the contest between
the supporters of La Follette and Taft
is waged with much vigor.
Outside of Chicago the battle in Illinois is between the "votes" and the
"dry." It is a hot one and a heavy
vote, notwithstanding that rain is falling at many places, is being polled.
At Bloomington the women are serving free coffee and sandwiches from
tables erected near the polling places,
while the fair sex are holding prayer
meetings in a number of churches. In Chicago there is no direct issue involved.

In Minnesota,
St. Paul, Minn., April 7.—From all parts of the state where primaries
were held Saturday and Monday, the
reports show there is now question
about Taft having the Minnesota delegation for him at the Chicago convention. It is very doubtful if any other candidate for president will be able to secure even a single vote, as a delegate from this state.

In Milwaukee,
Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—At noon
today the buses received from the various precincts of the city show
that a larger vote than that of 1906
is being polled today. The reports
were telephoned to police headquarters from the different polling booths
during the noon hour by the police
officers stationed at each precinct.
That the democratic managers have practically conceded the defeat of Rose and are pleasantly advising their supporters to vote for Pringle to prevent the possibility of the election of Emil Seidel, the Social Democratic candidate, was the report which was
current throughout the city at noon
today. While the report was denied
at democratic headquarters and every effort was being made to keep up an optimistic appearance, the confidence
which has always been so noticeable
among the unfettered followers of
Mr. Rose was not in evidence.

In Manitowish,
Manitowish, Wis., April 7.—The vote
being polled in this city is the heaviest known in years. Interest centers
in the municipal election for aldermen. There are three contestants who are waging a hot fight for the office
of delegates to the national republican convention from the Eighth district. Friends of John Larus, are making a strenuous effort for his election to the bench of the supreme court.

At political headquarters in this city the opinion is expressed that today's elections, taken as a whole, will
have little or no bearing on the coming state and national campaigns, are merely of a local character, with party lines cutting little or no figure. The results, therefore, cannot reasonably
be expected to forecast in any degree the probable results of the contests this fall.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES ARE TO BE FILLED

By the Election in Milwaukee Today
—Four complete tickets in.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—Today's election in Milwaukee is for all the principal municipal offices, including
mayor, comptroller, treasurer and aldermen. There are four complete tickets in the field. David S. Rose, a former mayor and a democratic leader
of national prominence, is the democratic candidate for the mayoralty.
T. J. Pringle heads the republican ticket. Emil Seidel is the candidate for mayor on the Social Democratic ticket and Thomas Gardner is the candidate of the Prohibitionists.

ANNUAL CONVENTION IN NORTH CAROLINA

North Carolina Sunday Schools Gather For Annual Meeting
in Burlington.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Burlington, N. C., April 7.—Earnest
Christian workers from every part of North Carolina rallied here in force
today for the annual convention of the State Sunday School Association.
From the time of the formal opening
today until the final close of the proceedings Thursday evening there will be a succession of features which will keep the delegates busy. The large attendance, the prominent speakers,
the attractive musical features and
the perfection of the arrangements
combine to give promise of the best
convention ever held by the association.

Prominent among the speakers on
the program are President James A.
B. Schorer of Newberry College, W.
C. Pearce of Chicago, and Mrs. J. W.
Barnes, superintendent of the elementary department of the international association. Messrs. Tuller and Merrell of New York are here to direct the musical features of the program. Thursday will be the big day of the convention, when the speakers will include Governor Glenn
of North Carolina and President Po-
test of Wake Forest College.
The officers of the convention who are in charge of the convention are:
President, Dr. C. M. Poole of Salisbury; vice-president, L. W. Clark of Spray, N. C.; P. H. Flemming of Burlington, and Rev. P. B. Hall of Kingston; secretary, Miss Maude Reid of Raleigh, and treasurer, H. W. Jackson of Raleigh.

REPUBLICANS MEET IN LYNCHBURG, VA.

Virginia Republican Convention Delegates Are Beginning to

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lynchburg, Va., April 7.—Leading republicans of Virginia are landing up here in considerable number for the state and district conventions for
the selection of delegates to the national convention at Chicago. The convention promises to be well attended and plans will be discussed for pursuing a vigorous campaign in Virginia
this fall. It has been decided to place
candidates in the field in every congressional district in the state, in addition to its other business tomorrow's convention will select a successor to Chairman C. Bascom Sloop,
who is filling the unexpired term of
his father, the late Colonel Campbell Sloop, in congress.

MYSTERIOUS POISON CASE TO BE DROPPED BY POLICE

Young Man Poisoned In A Tenderloin Restaurant In New York City.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, April 7.—The mystery
surrounding the death of Walter F.
Baker, the wealthy young Boston
man, which caused a sensation last October, will probably never be cleared up. Despite the fact that the coroner's jury recently found that the young man was poisoned, it is said
that the authorities have practically concluded not to lay the matter before the Bergen county grand jury,
which met today. The district attorney's office is of the belief that the evidence at hand would not warrant
any arrests in the case and unless the private detectives employed by the relatives of the victim bring to
light some new facts on which an arrest could be made it is extremely
likely that the world will never know
how young Baker came to his death
and the motive of his murder, if a murder was committed.
Baker died October 27 last within an hour after he had been removed
to the home of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurd, in Boston from the Tenderloin restaurant where he was stricken. He died shortly after midnight and the body was embalmed
before daylight. When his brother in Boston was informed of Walter's
death he at once directed that the body be not embalmed, but it was too late. The brother was not satisfied with the report of the circumstances
of the death and decided to have an examination made by chemists of the
organs of the body even after the embalming fluid had been used. The chemical and microscopic examinations disclosed the presence of
large quantities of arsenic in the body. The poison was said to have been found in organs which the embalming fluid could not by any possibility have penetrated.
Baker left a fortune estimated at about $500,000. For several years he-fore his death he had been well known
in this city as a frequenter of fashionable restaurants and cafes. He still called Boston his home, but the greater part of his time was spent here. During his frequent visits to this city he often made his headquarters at the home of his friends, the Hurds, at Boston. It was at Hurd's home that he died after being stricken suddenly ill, and Hurd's young daughter, Natalie—a little child—was
the principal beneficiary under Baker's
will. She received $200,000 outright from the estate. The little girl never came into possession of the fortune,
however. In the first place the will
was disputed by Baker's relatives, and
that contest has not yet been decided by the courts. The child was stricken by scarlet fever last January, and died on February 21, after
an illness of five weeks.
An investigation, which was instituted by the authorities in this city
and in New Jersey soon after Baker's
death came to nothing and the body
was taken to Boston and buried. The dead man's brother, however, believing that there were details in the
case that had not been disclosed,
kept steadily at the investigation. As a result of his efforts the New Jersey
authorities were prompted to take up
the matter once more. Another coroner's inquest was ordered and as the result of medical and other testimony
offered the jury found that the young man had come to his death through
poison administered by some person or persons unknown. But the entire lack of a clue upon which to work has led the district attorney's office to the conclusion that, under the circumstances, it would be useless to submit
the matter to the grand jury which convened today. The brother of the dead man, however, announces his intention to pursue the investigation to the end, and has employed several detectives to devote their entire time to the case. Meantime the disposal of the fortune left by the young man
will be fought out in the courts.

DIGNIFIED CAMPAIGN HAS WON RUGER MANY FRIENDS

Dispatch From Madison Says His Chances
Are Considered Good For Election
Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 7.—The dignity with which the candidacy of William Ruger of Janesville has been handled is so suggestive of the dignity and fairness which traditionally
is supposed to characterize members
of the high courts of this country,
and so in contrast to the methods injected into the campaigns of "M. M.
Bashford of Madison and John Barnes
of Rhineland that for the past two weeks frequent remarks have been heard that the splendid Janesville attorney ought to profit by the methods
employed in behalf of his bitterly contending rivals. How much Mr. Ruger
may have gained by this situation
will not be known until late tonight,
but it is certain that had the Barnes-Bashford feud begun to fly two weeks
earlier instead of being reserved to
the rookback stages of the campaign,
the successor to the late Chief Justice J. B. Caspary would have come from Janesville, and properly, too, for
the late chief justice was long a member of the Rock county bar and from his practice in Janesville was elevated to the supreme bench which he
graced for so many years.
Probably never before in the history of the state was religion so promi-nently injected into any campaign,
and certainly never before in a judicial campaign, which is supposed to be free from the meanness and little
methods which are indulged in frequent contests. The Methodist organ, Northwestern Christian Advocate,
boasted Bashford as a brother of Disciple Bashford. Then Attorney J. F.
Martin of Green Bay sent out some letters to brother Catholics, by inference knocking Bashford for the Methodist pull. Then followed innumerable charges and denials, counter-
charges and more denials, until much disgust is in the atmosphere. The Barnes people predict the election of
their man by a plurality of 10,000 over Bashford.

TAFT REPLIES TO WILLIAM J. BRYAN

SAYS HE ISN'T CONSISTENT
ABOUT THE PHILIPPINES.

HAS BUSY DAY IN OMAHA

Closes with Speech at McKinley Club
Banquet, Setting Forth Issues
the Coming Campaign.

Omaha, Neb., Apr. 7.—Secretary Taft rounded out the first day of his trip to Nebraska with a speech at the Auditorium Monday night, where he was the honored guest at a banquet given by the McKinley club.

It was a strenuous 16 hours, which began at two o'clock in the morning and ended at midnight. The secretary took occasion to place before the people the real issues of the coming campaign, as he views them, and, incidentally, to reply to the recent utterances of William J. Bryan when the Democratic leader criticized the action of the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations for their policy in the Philippine islands. Mr. Taft stated that Mr. Bryan was not consistent in his utterances, because he had been the means, in a large degree, of bringing about the signing of the treaty of Paris, whereby the Philippines came under the control of the United States, and he is now criticizing the action of the administration because of its efforts to teach the Philippines the art of self-government.

The war secretary also took up and dealt at length with the question of railroad legislation and individual combinations, which he considers one of the principal issues of the campaign. Something Doing All Day.

The day was full of functions for Secretary Taft. It began at Council Bluffs, where his train arrived at eight o'clock. He was met at the Union station in that city by a reception committee from Omaha which accompanied him across the river and acted as an escort to the Hotel Belmont, where he had breakfast. He was occupied for nearly three hours during the forenoon with Secretary Mitchell, preparing his evening address, and at 12:30 was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Victor Kowat at the Omaha club. There were also present Gov. Sheldon and members of the Nebraska delegation to the national Republican convention.

The reception at the hotel took an hour of his time immediately following luncheon, and the secretary was then hurried away in an automobile to the First Congregational church, where he addressed the Woman's club for an hour. Returning to his hotel he devoted some time to the revision of his night address and was whisked away to the Auditorium.

Bryan Speaks in Denver.
Denver, Col., Apr. 7.—William J. Bryan addressed 850 listeners Monday night in the spacious 12. J. J. Temple banquet hall, in addition to hundreds of others who filled every seat in the galleries overlooking the main room. The banquet had been arranged by the Bryan Democratic Club of Colorado and its president, former Congressman John S. Shaffroth, presided. Mr. Bryan was the only speaker.

Just before the banquet all the waiters struck for higher pay, and members of the club served in their places.

During the day Mr. Bryan, in charge of a committee headed by Mr. Shaffroth and other officers, visited many places of interest, including the new auditorium, now nearing completion, in which will be held the national Democratic convention in July. Mr. Bryan's only other public reception was held in the afternoon at the chamber of commerce. Hundreds of people were present.

DR. WM. HORNE, JANESVILLE

Writes Letter Which May Be of Great Interest to Skin Sufferers of This City.

Janesville, Wisconsin, Dec. 3, 1906.

My Dear Doctor,

Don't think for a moment that I have forgotten you or the D. D. Remedy. I think it is the most efficacious, sure remedy I have ever known. In over fifty years' practice of medicine I am sure of one thing—it is a God-send to the sufferers from any and all forms of Eczema. I never fail to recommend it when opportunity offers.

One of the truest remedies I have ever known. Use me just as you please. If I can do good I am satisfied.

Faithfully yours,

DR. W. M. HORNE.

What D. D. Remedy did in this case it ought to do for you. This wonderful remedy is now recognized by the foremost physicians and scientists as the quickest and surest cure for eczema and skin disease of any nature. This remedy is as safe and pleasant to use as pure water, and is applied directly to the afflicted parts, leaving no odor or sticky substance. The first application gives INSTANT RELIEF, and as far as we have been able to investigate quickly effects the most astonishing and permanent cures wherever rightly used. If you are a sufferer from any kind of itch or skin disease of any nature do not fail to try this remarkable remedy. THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

West Touches on a Variety of Sporting Topics.

Although Champion Pugilist Tommy Burns picked up nearly $8,000 for appearing in a one minute and one-half farce, entitled "Tom Hit Jim and Jim Hit the Floor" recently, he did not increase the confidence of the American sporting public in his prowess for the reason that he has not beaten a really first class man since he was in the ring with Marvin Hart or "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien.

No one who knows anything about prize fighting will admit that such in-former boxers as Squires, Moir, Palmer and Heche were capable of putting Burns to a real test, although the latter cannot be justly censured for making matches with these easy marks so long as good money was within his reach.

But now that Burns has disposed of all the pugilistic lemons he can offer no excuses for not coming back, here and meeting a real pugilist, either Al Kaufman, the big negro Jack Johnson or some other man of recognized ability.

Hans Wagner has decided to quit baseball, and all the baseball world is agog as a result. Hans says he needs a rest. According to reports, he has been suffering from rheumatism and intends to conduct a poultry farm instead of currying around the green diamond this season.

Should Hans stand by his decision to quit the game the Pittsburgh team would most likely be changed from a first division team, with pennant possibilities, to a second division aggregation, while the National league would lose its greatest drawing card.

Here is the latest one about "Bosher" Bill Squires, Sam Fitzpatrick, manager of Jack Johnson, says that Bill Squires, who came here from Australia to wrest the heavyweight honors from Champion Tommy Burns, was the father of the fighter and not the great man we thought him to be.

"Why, the real Bill is over there yet," says Sam, "and he just sent the old man over to see how soft the pugilists were in this country."

Bill helped train Jim Roche for his recent punching bag stunt with "modest" Tommy Burns. How he must have enjoyed squinting in the Roche corner and seeing an illustration of what Burns did to Bill in Coffroth's club in Colton, Cal.

Bill intended challenging the winner, but changed his mind suddenly.

THE JAMES HALL "PHENOM" DEPARTURE FROM HIS NATIVE HEATH.

THE JAMES HALL "PHENOM" RETURN FROM THE FRONT A MONTH LATER.

A new focus of prize fighting interest has been discovered at Fairbanks, Alaska. The sheriff is a good fellow, and the governor can't find Fairbanks on the last official map. The promoters are no pikers. They want heavyweights who are willing to go to a dish with gloves that are a little better than a horseshoe and a little harder than a brick.

The way the college authorities continue to tie the tin can on the star athlete looks as if they were trying to abolish all branches of sports.

After Count Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics had talked to Fletcher Edle Plank about the evils and dangers of a former's life the pitcher lost no time pushing his left hand paw over a contract.

Disconcerting.

Drugged and Robbed on Train.

Springfield, O., Apr. 7.—Contending that he is an official interpreter for the court of King Edward, and that he was sent to this country ten months ago on important business for the British government, Robert Henry Clemmings told the police Monday that he had been drugged and robbed on his way from Detroit to this city. He said that even his clothing had been stripped from him and an old suit put on him instead.

CALLS FOR A GRAFT PROBE.

St. Louis Judge Wants House of Delegates Investigated.

St. Louis, Mo., Apr. 7.—Instructing the April grand jury Monday, Circuit Judge Hugo Muehler said that charges are being freely made and circulated that corruption exists in the present house of delegates and that a corrupt combination of legislators is using its powers for the purpose of personal gain. He urged that investigation be made and that, if evidence of graft is discovered, indictments be returned.

If graft does not exist, Judge Muehler said, then the publishers of articles and cartoons which have spread the charges have slandered the members of the house of delegates and should be prosecuted for libel.

Frankfort, Ky., Apr. 7.—Instructing the grand jury Monday Judge Stout called attention to alleged bribery of certain legislators in the late senatorial race. He told the jury to make an investigation of charges and sift the matter to the bottom.

Flood of Molten Glass.
Glassboro, N. J., Apr. 7.—In a fire which damaged one of the Whitney company's glass factories in this place, 85 tons of molten glass were loose, causing considerable loss. The molten glass ran down a hill near the works and set fire to a Pennsylvania railroad bridge which was badly damaged. The loss on the glass works will not exceed $30,000.

SHARPLES TUBULAR BEATS "BUCKET BOWLS" AGAIN.

Here are the results of an impartial comparative clean skimming test, of cream separators, made by a noted professor of Morgantown, W. Va., before a class of farmers and dairymen at Shiks Grove, W. Va., March 22, 1906. The Tubular again whipped the "bucket bowl" machines to a finish. Here's the record—read it carefully:

THE SHARPLES TUBULAR SKIMMED

4 Times cleaner than the Empire.
8 Times cleaner than the old De Laval.
4 Times cleaner than the new De Laval.
4 Times cleaner than the United States.

If you want a cream separator that will do the work it's built to do, you'll get a Sharple's Tubular.

MORE BUTTER WITH LESS POWER.

Laurens, N. Y., Feb. 4, 1907.
Gentlemen: I bought a Tubular Separator No. 4. I gained in butter the first week 4½ lbs. over another make. I took from under my dog power four inches.

SHARPLES TUBULAR MAKES WEAR-FOREVER RECORD.

In an endurance test, commenced August 2, 1904, and ending August 2, 1906, a No. 9 Tubular made an astonishing record for durability. Attached to a driving apparatus, turning it as a man would, it ran at rated speed and capacity 50 hours per week for one year. Each week of this hard test was equal to one year of actual service in a ten-cow dairy. Here are the facts of this remarkable test:

62 Years' Work—75 Cts. Repairs.
Hours run2,600
Pounds separated2,340,000
Turns of crank6,837,480
Turns of bowl2,499,000,000
Oil used6½ quarts
Time oilingAbout 8 min.
Time adjusting10 min.
Repairs75 cents

2,210,000 lbs. is about the yield of ten ordinary cows for 52 years. This Tubular did us much work in 52 weeks as though in use 52 years in a ten-cow dairy. During the first 24 weeks this Tubular needed neither adjustment nor repairs. In 52 weeks it needed only 75 cents' worth of repairs. These repairs were simply the replacing of the steel balls in the bearing supporting the bowl. These balls began to wear unevenly after they had rolled over thirty-two thousand miles—distance equal to one and one-third times around the earth. Get rid of the idea that all separators are alike. Let this great test slip into your memory and stick there—let it settle for good and all the absolute durability of Tubulars.

I will be glad to show you these machines from A to Z if you will call on me. But write today for the little booklet. It's free.

Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room. Therefore, when working with the

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

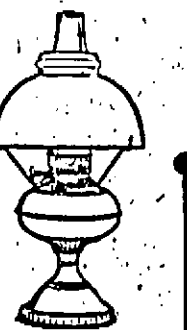

the kitchen actually seems as comfortable as you could wish it to be.

This, in itself, is wonderful, but, more than that, the "New Perfection" Oil Stove does perfectly everything that any stove can do. It is an ideal all-round cook-stove. Made in three sizes, and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

WISCONSIN TOWNS HOLD ELECTIONS

MUNICIPAL OFFICERS AND NATIONAL DELEGATES CHOSEN.

HOT KANSAS CITY FIGHT.

Beardsley Versus Crittenden for Mayor—Republicans and Democrats Assemble for South Dakota Conventions.

Millwaukee, Apr. 7.—Municipal elections were held throughout Wisconsin Tuesday and at the same time delegates to the national political conventions, and a justice of the Wisconsin supreme court were chosen.

The question of license, or no license was voted upon in a large number of towns and villages, the largest of these being Deloit and Marinette. The anti-saloon league has been actively at work in a number of towns but has confined its hardest work to the southern part of the state, principally Deloit, Stoutington, Edgerton, Darlington, Dodgeville and Watrous, a suburb of Milwaukee, also voted on that particular question. The contest on the saloon question promised to be close and exciting.

Kansas City Elects a Mayor. Kansas City, Mo., Apr. 7.—Kansas City elected city officials and 21 members of the common council Tuesday. Mayor Henry M. Beardsley, Republican, was a candidate for re-election, and the Democratic ticket was headed by Thomas T. Crittenden, Jr., an candidate for mayor. The campaign, which has been very bitter, ended with a great Republican meeting in Convention hall, addressed by United States Senator Warner, Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley and Mayor Beardsley, and with 14 Democratic ward meetings.

Both parties in their platforms advocate public control of utilities through a commission appointed by the mayor, but the Republican campaign has been made upon the claim that the corporations were supporting the Democratic ticket. The saloon has been a minor issue, both parties being pledged to enforce night and Sunday closing laws.

Nine Michigan Counties Go Dry. Detroit, Mich., Apr. 7.—The indications are that Monday's elections added nine more counties to Michigan's "dry" column. As Van Buren was the only county heretofore "dry," the total of local option counties becomes ten. Of the 14 counties where the prohibitionists made a campaign, Kalamazoo, Cass, Gladwin, Grand Traverse and Oakland voted against local option.

At Grand Rapids George R. Ellis, Republican, was elected mayor over Charles R. Sligh, Democrat, and Hybrant Wessellus, Independent. P. H. Millham, Democrat, was elected mayor of Kalamazoo; John Campbell, Democrat, mayor of Muskegon, and George H. Herklimer, Democrat, mayor of Dowagiac.

Republicans Meet at Huron. Huron, S. D., Apr. 7.—Large delegations from all parts of the state are here to attend the Republican state convention which opens Tuesday to name delegates to the national convention. Senator Kittredge with ex-Congressmen Martin and Burke were among the early arrivals and immediately opened headquarters. Kittredge badges are strongly in evidence, particularly among the Black Hills delegations.

The Progressives were confident they would be able to control the convention by a majority so large that the stalwarts would concede to whatever might be presented. Johnson sentiment in South Dakota.

Mitchell, S. D., Apr. 7.—The advance guard of the Democratic convention reached the city, when the Black Hills delegation came in. Several prominent delegates went west Saturday to meet the Black Hills party in the hope of making some plans to prevent the instruction of delegates to the national convention for Bryan. There is something of a Johnson sentiment showing up in portions of the state and it is likely that an effort will be made to prevent instructing the delegation.

Republicans Win in Helena. Helena, Mont., Apr. 7.—The Republicans won a sweeping victory in the municipal election in Helena, electing Frank J. Edwards mayor by a plurality of 200 over Brendugee, Democrat. They also elected five of seven aldermen.

SYEEN RIOTERS ARE KILLED

LIBBON HAS A NIGHT OF TERROR AFTER THE ELECTION.

Municipal Guard and Troops in Fierce Battles with Mob—Hundred Persons Are Wounded.

Libbon, Apr. 7.—Seven persons were shot to death and 100 others wounded by soldiers Sunday evening after the voting in the elections in this city had ended. The rioting was widespread and such was the confusion during the violent conflict between the populace and the municipal guard that the "guardsmen," mistaking infantrymen who had been called out for members of the mob, fired a volley into their ranks, seriously wounding three of the soldiers.

The night was one of terror for Libbon, which seemed suddenly aflame with seething revolt. Bands of men ran wildly through the streets brandishing weapons, while the sharp crack of rifles was heard in various sections of the city. Thousands of the most peaceable citizens fled to their homes just as they did on the night after the assassination of King Carlos and the crown prince.

The principal rioting was the result of a dispute between the Republicans and the Monarchists regarding the counting of votes. The Republicans had been fearing fraud at the various Libbon polling places and made a determined stand for their rights at St. Dominique's church, which is in the center of the city, a district that is practically the stronghold of Republicanism.

The difference between the officials spread to the crowds that filled the church and in a moment blows were struck and then a general fight followed. Suddenly the municipal guard arrived and cleared the office of the struggling combatants at the point of the bayonet.

Meantime the crowd outside the church had been greatly augmented and the guardsmen's appearance at the doors after they had forced the people into the streets was the signal for a shower of stones, under which they were forced to retreat to the interior of the office. As they retired they fired a volley from their rifles bringing down several of the rioters. The mob steadily increased and shouts and cries of anger were heard on every side. The rioters armed themselves anew and soon the edifice was surrounded and besieged by a mad-dened mob.

The guardsmen fired intermittently through the doorways, but the volleys were feeble and ineffectual. Eventually the commanding officer placed a detail on the balcony over the main portal, from which point of vantage the guardsmen fired repeatedly into the surging populace, wounding a large number. At last three companies of infantry and a troop of cavalry with one battery appeared, driving all before them.

boat from Dover to Calais Monday night, en route to that place to see the king, whose absence at a time when it was foreseen that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's illness must lead almost inevitably to a cabinet crisis provoked criticism in the English papers. There has been a rumor that the king would return to London on Saturday next, but this is very doubtful.

In his letter of resignation, to the king, Sir Henry advised his majesty to appoint Mr. Asquith. The latter, in point of fact, has no rival for the leadership of his party and the government. His accession to the premiership will undoubtedly sooner or later lead to sweeping changes in the constitution of the late ministry, but in the unprecedented circumstance of the British premier resigning during an important session of parliament it is quite possible that the new premier will content himself with the absolutely necessary changes.

TUGBOATS PURSUE STEERS.

Exciting Chase in the East River at New York.

New York, Apr. 7.—A fleet of tugboats pursuing a drove of wild Texas steers swimming in the East river was the exciting and unusual spectacle witnessed by hundreds of persons Monday. A Lehigh Valley railroad float carrying a carload of 20 steers, and several cars loaded with coal, sprung a leak in the East river near the foot of North Ninth street, Brooklyn, and sank. Before it went down the deck hands opened the doors and the steers made a dash for safety. About 15 of them got clear of the float before it went down, but the others were drowned.

A lively chase ensued. Passing tugs joined in the pursuit and several unsuccessful attempts were made to lasso the swimming steers. Those that were captured were towed ashore, where great difficulty was experienced in getting them on to the docks. Several of the steers swam a long distance up the river before they were captured.

Not Drifting

There is such a thing as drifting in business and professional life. Just drifting along day by day, taking things as they come. Such a course does not get a man anywhere except nearer to the Poorhouse. Dr. Richards in his dental work is not a drifter.

He has a definite policy. He works towards an end. That end is to please his every patient just a little better than his competitors.

Does this policy win? The facts are, his dental practice has grown during the last seven years until he has by far the largest dental business in Janesville.

Good work will win out. Vigilant effort to avoid hurting also wins out.

Reasonable prices ought to appeal to your better judgment also. Try him for your next dental work, and you too will be convinced that he makes good.

SECOND WARD IS OUT WITH VOTERS

CONTEST BETWEEN BAUMANN AND BUCHHOLZ BECOMES INTERESTING.

BELOW PRIMARY TOTALS

At One o'clock This Afternoon—Rain Keeps Many Voters Away from Polls.

Except for the second ward, there is but little interest in the city election today. In the second the vote at two o'clock was 264 as compared with 139 at the same time on primary day. The Baumann-Buchholz fight is one of the warmest the ward has seen for some time and both sides claim the victory.

Other Figures
In the First ward the vote at two was 123 as compared to 175 at the same time primary day. In the third it was 215 as compared with 390 and in the fourth 140 as compared to 119 and the fifth had 62 today as compared to 121 primary day.

Park Question
Every indication points to a heavy vote on the park purchase proposition and this appears to work with the Judgeship and delegates to the national republican convention to bring out as large a vote as expected. The confusion in arrangement of the Taft and La Follette delegates may result in the selection of two of each in the state delegation at large and split it in the district delegates.

Office Open
The Gazette will have men stationed at each of the polling places to secure the city vote as soon as counted and will have from the first assembly district and from the third by telephone as well as from the results in Milwaukee and a brief summary of the state at large. The office will be open after seven this evening to those who are interested in the returns.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Use Taylor's Solvay cokes. Do a Wood-Slinger, it's great. Dishes, WANTED—At once, at Gazette office, clean, good sized, cotton rags for wiping machinery.

Regular meeting of Rock Council No. 25, F. A. A., at eight o'clock tonight, at Spanish War Veterans' hall. All members are requested to attend and bring a friend. Gen. Officer Bro. D. C. Sullivan and State Representative Bro. Grady will be here. Entertainment and refreshments after the meeting. Mrs. K. Schumacher, Sec'y.

A superb collection of strictly high grade kid and silk gloves in all lengths from the leading makers of the country. The values are un surpassed. T. P. Burns.

Tomorrow the annual pilgrimage of ladies to Holmstrom's Drug store takes place and it's probable that every lady in Janesville will be there to get a surprise bag which this year contains more prizes than ever before.

Several styles of the latest model Monarch typewriter can be seen at 224 Hayes block today and Wednesday. P. D. Snow, assisted by P. J. Townsend.

Tomorrow and Thursday evening at 7:30 there will be given in the parlors of the Congregational church two studies of the character of Christ illustrated by "Theosophical" pictures. The subject for Wednesday evening is "The Manhood of Christ" and for Thursday evening "The Sacrificing Christ." The public is invited.

M. May in Housekeeper says: "If you want to do housework with half the labor, use the Skoury Cleaning Powder. Your grocer has it and ten cents worth will save you two hours' work."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Anna Prox.
The funeral services of Mrs. Anna Prox were held this morning at nine o'clock from St. Mary's church, Rev. W. A. Gosholt officiating. The interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pallbearers were W. Prox, Anna Miller, Valentine Bier, Wm. Wallach, Philip Lieneske, and Frank Sorenson.

Mrs. John Cummings.
Word has been received by D. S. Cummings of this city announcing the death of his mother, Mrs. John Cummings, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Harlow in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Mrs. Cummings died last night at the age of 87, her husband having died about five years ago. She had been visiting her daughter since the latter part of February. She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. E. H. Harlow of Albuquerque, and Mrs. Trux of Kenosha, Wis., and three sons, D. S. Cummings of this city, J. H. Cummings of Ft. Atkinson, and H. M. Cummings of Decorah, Iowa. The body will be brought here on Friday for interment.

James Winters.
James Winters died this morning at the age of 68. He was for many years an engineer on the Northwestern road but about eight years ago his mind became unbalanced. He leaves to mourn him a wife and a daughter, Miss Mary Winters of Milwaukee. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Attention, Elks
Regular meeting of Janesville Lodge No. 251, B. P. O. E., this evening. Installation of officers and other important business will be brought before the lodge. You are urgently requested to be present.

To Be Popular.
It is astonishing how much you can learn from people in social intercourse when you know how to look at them rightly, but it is a fact that you can only get a great deal out of them by giving them a great deal yourself. The more you radiate yourself, the more magnanimous you are; the more generous of yourself, the more you will get back.

TO OPEN THEATRE FOR PICTURE SHOW

Manager Myers First Theatre Manager to Enter Five-Cent Moving Picture Show Lists.

Starting on Thursday next Manager Peter Myers will open his theatre evenings for a five-cent moving picture performance. In taking this step Mr. Myers follows the lead set by many managers of eastern states, but is the first in Wisconsin to do so. He has contracted for films with a Chicago home and will install a moving picture machine in the balcony in a steel cage. The theatre will be open each evening, starting Thursday, except on nights when there is a performance booked.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Bagged 200 Muskrats: Louis Skavlen has returned from a month's outing at Lake Koshkonong. He trapped upwards of 200 muskrats during his sojourn there.

F. & A. M.: Stated communication Western Star Lodge No. 14, F. & A. M., Masonic Temple, 7:30 tonight. Work, Refreshments. Visiting brethren invited.

Met Saturday Last: The members of the Sigma Phi Psi held a meeting Saturday evening at the home of Miss Carrie Sholes in the Pond flats. This was the last meeting for the year, although the members expect to meet next winter. The club is composed of Miss Martha Hogan, president, and the Misses Carrie Sholes, Mildred Dwyer, Vera Nolan, Pearl Baker and Louise Philbin.

M. R. Osburn's New Car: M. R. Osburn's new four-cylinder Buick automobile has been delivered here and is being put through its paces.

Punished for Drunkenness: Edward Hoffman and Albert Holzer pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness in municipal court this morning and each was assessed a fine and costs amounting to $2.10. The first named paid the money and the case was adjourned two weeks in the case of Holzer.

The Open Door.
It's a small thing to have the doors of a school or a theater open out, but there might come a time when it would be worth a million dollars to the child or the man behind them.

Police Patrol Called Out: A telephone message from 16 Arch street, received at the police station this morning, called Officers Brown, Champion, and Panning to the scene of supposed trouble. It was supposed that a gang of chicken thieves were getting in their work in that locality, but when the sound of officers arrived they merely found that a lodger who left the two o'clock train this afternoon had approached the house with a stick in his hand and asked for a cup of coffee. As some chickens had disappeared from the premises recently, the lady of the house decided that the tramp in question was the guilty party. Officer Panning after waylaying him down the railroad track allowed him to continue his journey out of town.

St. Paul Detective Here: W. J. King of the C. M. & St. P. detective force arrived here this morning and spent several hours at the police station. Mr. King's home is in Milwaukee.

Car Ran Over Dog: At the corner of Court and South Main streets shortly after two o'clock this afternoon a valuable white bulldog belonging to Bert Van Hunter was run down by a street car and one of its hind legs cut off near the hip. The police patrol wagon was summoned and the poor creature removed to Dr. R. L. Brown's operating room where its sufferings were ended with chloroform.

HEADACHE TABLETS WERE NEARLY FATAL

Young Lady at Footville Took Contents of Box and Nearly Died from Effects.

Suffering from a severe headache at the home of Mrs. Stella Kelly at Footville last Friday morning, Miss Ida Harper picked up her box of headache tablets and took all that were left in the box, four in number. In a short time the young lady fell over apparently lifeless on the floor. Medical aid was quickly summoned and with the use of emetics in the course of time she was made easy as possible. By noon the physician pronounced her out of danger. Miss Ida is one of our most highly thought of young ladies and her many friends are pleased to know that she so luckily escaped what might have proved fatal to her.

THREE WEDDINGS THAT ARE TO TAKE PLACE AT ST. PATRICK'S EASTER WEEK

Danna Have Been Published for Shields-Kelly, Davis-Dumphy, and Lee-Litney Nuptials.

Miss Margaret Shields, who has been in the employ of J. M. Bostwick & Co. for several years past, has given up her position and will be wedded to James Kelly at St. Patrick's church during Easter week. Two other couples who will also be united at the same church during the same period are: Miss Mayme Davis of Chicago and Thomas Dumphy of the town of Harmony; Miss Allen Lee and George Litney, both of this city.

Hobby—Oh no, I'm not.
Little Girl—Then will you take first, please?

Greatness.

There is a kind of elevation which does not depend on fortune. It is a certain air which distinguishes us, and seems to destiny us for great things; it is a price which we imperceptibly set on ourselves. By this quality we usurp the deference of other men; and it puts us, in general, more above them than birth, dignity, or even merit itself.—La Rochefoucauld.

Bridge with Plate Glass Floor.
In Colorado there is a bridge spanning the Royal Gorge of the Arkansas river, a bridge half a mile high. It reaches from one cliff to the other, with a deep dreadful chasm beneath it. The floor of this wonderful bridge is made of plate glass one and one-half inches thick set in steel frame-work.

THAT women are partial to Queen Quality Shoes and Oxfords cannot be more forcibly demonstrated than through the fact that each year finds many more Queen Quality converts and also that each succeeding season brings back the wearers of Queen Quality of the seasons past. There is probably no line manufactured so representative as is this Queen Quality. The embodiment of style with wearing qualities is so superbly interwoven as to leave little to be said in contradiction of their supremacy. The price, so reasonable, adds the final touch that might be the deciding point in many cases, $3.00 $3.50 and $4.00; beautiful leathers, tans, etc.; over 40 styles. Which Shall It Be?

Home-baked Beans or Van Camp's?

On one side the beans are mushy and broken, because you have baked in dry heat.

The other beans are baked in live steam. They are all baked alike—baked until they are mealy. Yet they are nutty because they are whole.

On one side the beans are heavy and hard to digest, for you lack sufficient heat. They ferment and form gas.

Van Camp's are baked at 245 degrees. That fierce heat separates the particles so the digestive juices can get to them. Then we bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together, and get our delicious blend.

On one side is the bother of soaking, boiling and baking. The other beans are all ready. Heat the can in hot water, then open. The dish is as fresh and as savory as when it was freshly baked.

Let your people decide which they want.

Serve both your beans and Van Camp's, and see which they ask for next. And be glad of their choice. For 'twill save you the bother of baking beans, and let our chef cook for you.

Van Camp's pork and beans baked with tomato sauce

You don't know how good beans can be until you once try Van Camp's.

We pay $2.10 per bushel to get the choicest Michigan beans. We could buy beans for 30 cents. But ours are picked out by hand to give us only the whitest, the plumpest, the very cream of the crop.

We could buy tomato sauce ready-made for exactly one-fifth what we spend to make ours. But it would lack the richness, the sparkling-zest, which we get from vine-ripened tomatoes.

We believe that the best beans, baked with the best sauce, are cheap enough. And millions of people agree with us.

For beans are Nature's choicest food, when they are rightly cooked. They are like meat in their food value, and not like it in cost. Try serving such beans as your people want often, and see what you save on meat.

Prices: 10, 15 and 20 cents per can.

"Light" Returns Are Heavy

A seeming paradox, but an actual truth. When we say light we mean ELECTRIC LIGHT. Electric Light is a good investment for any energetic business man intent on increasing his trade. Light attracts, and the brilliantly illuminated store, other things being equal, will get the business.

Astute merchants, realizing this truth, become lavish users of Electric Light, and then watch their sales increase.

Let us explain how cheaply we can illuminate your store.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period.

Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

RETIREMENT OF WAGNER.

Famous Shortstop Says He Will Not Play Ball This Season.

John Thomas Wagner, thought by many to be the greatest of all baseball players, will not be with the Pittsburgh Pirates during the coming season. The broad shouldered, bowlegged diamond star seems to have meant every word he said when he announced some time ago that he was going to retire for a much needed rest. President Dreyfuss and Manager Clarke of the Pittsburgh club, as well as fans everywhere, hoped that the mighty Hans was only indulging in a little springtime bluff. Recently Messrs. Dreyfuss and Clarke said that they were convinced that Wagner meant to retire for one season at least, if not permanently.

Wagner, who retires from baseball in the height of his fame and glory,

was born near his present home in Carnegie about thirty-four years ago. While employed in a coal mine he spent his spare moments playing baseball on the lots. His first professional engagement was with Steubenville at a salary of $30 per month. Later, when he went to the Patterson (N. J.) club, he attracted widespread attention. The Louisville club, of which Barney Dreyfuss was the principal owner, purchased Wagner's release for $2,000. Hans was then playing in the outfield.

When the National league was reduced from twelve to eight clubs and Barney Dreyfuss purchased a controlling interest in the Pittsburgh club, Wagner went there with Lench, Clarke, Waddell, Ritchey, Phillips, Zimmer and others. He played an outfield position until Fred Elzy was let out, when he was shifted to short. From the short his batting has been the greatest in the history of the game. By winning the batting championship in 1907 he established a record never before made by any ball player, that of leading the National league between five times.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faintness with general weakness. If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strength-building medicine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to neglect any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or know your sufferings, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

THE CAPTAIN OF the KANSAS

By LOUIS TRACY.

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY EDWARD J. CLODE

"You 'daring!' You must have slept with one eye open," said Elsie, stooping to pat him.

"Oh, take care!" cried Isabel. "He may bite you."

"Not he! When you see that wistful look in a dog's eyes, have no fear. He wants to speak then. You won't bite me, will you, dear?" And Elsie sank on one knee to stroke Joey's white coat, whereupon Joey tried to lick her face.

"Between the library and the captain's dog you are installed as a prime favorite on board the Kansas," commented Isabel. The other girl rose hurriedly. She had caught the touch of malice in the smooth voice.

"Captain Courtney is too polite to remind us that we are intruders," she said lightly. "We forget that he is busy. Joey, candidly confess, did not try to hide his feelings."

Isabel swung her chair round to face the door.

"This is quite the best place in the ship," she said. "I am very comfortable, thank you. Please don't send us away, captain."

Before Courtney could answer the officer of the watch looked in.

"Cape Caranulla bearing south-west of the lighthouse, sir," he announced and vanished again.

"Don't hurry," said Courtney, taking up his cap. "I must leave you for a few minutes."

He was gone, with Joey at his heels, and there was a brief silence.

"Really, Isabel, we should go back on deck," urged Elsie uneasily. Already she half regretted the impulse which led her to intervene in her friend's special hobby.

"I like that. I didn't credit you with such gusto, Elsie Maxwell. You snuff up my nice captain beneath my very nose and coolly propose that I should vacate the battlefield. Oh, dear, but I can't talk literature, but I can flirt, and I have not finished with Arthur yet by a long chalk."

Isabel leaned back in her chair. She was insolently conscious of her superior attractions. Was she not the richest heiress in Valparaiso? Had not her father chartered this ship?

And was not Elsie even now flying from an unwelcome suitor? She knew full well that her friend would resent the slightest semblance of levity on the part of any man on board. Already her astonishment at Elsie's unlooked for vivacity was yielding to the humor of meeting such a rival. The count might serve as a foil, but the real quarry now was the captain. That very night there would be a moon. And the sea was calm as a sheltered lake.

Suddenly they both heard an excited bark from the dog and the quick rush of feet along the deck. Courtney's voice reached them with a new and startling note in it.

"Stop that!" he shouted.

There was an instant's pause. Their alert ears caught the sounds of a distant scuffle. Then a pistol shot jarred the peaceful drone of the ship.

"Sheer off, there!" roared Courtney again. "Next time I shoot to kill!"

With terror in their eyes, with blanched cheeks, they rushed to the door and peeped out. Courtney was not to be seen, but the officer of the a handkerchief. "At the same time he curtly ordered off such deck hands and stewards as came running forward, attracted by the disturbance.

"The girls were gazing wide eyed at this somewhat unnerving scene when Courtney approached.

"Better go below," he said quietly. "I am sorry this trouble should have happened, at the beginning of the voyage too. I hope it will not upset you. That rascally Chilean tried to knife Mr. Boyle, and those other blackguards were ready to side with him. I had to shoot quick and straight to show them I meant what I said."

"Is he dead?" asked Isabel, with a contemptuous coolness as to the fate of the mutineer which Courtney found admirable.

"Not a bit of it. Fired at his legs. Only a flesh wound, I fancy."

"Poor wretch!" murmured Elsie.

"Was there no other way?"

"There is only one way of dealing with that sort of skunk," was the grave answer. The pity in her voice implied a condemnation of his act. He resented it, and so it came to pass that neither the library nor the moon had power to draw the captain of the Kansas to the promenade deck that night.

CHAPTER II.

DR. CHRISTOBAL brought some additional details to the dinner table. He was not the ship's doctor. The Kansas, built for freight rather than passengers, did not carry a surgeon on her roll.

Dr. Christobal's presence was due to Mr. Boyle's solicitude in his daughter's behalf. It chanced that the courtly and gray haired Spanish physician had relinquished his practice in Chile and was about to pay a long promised visit to a married daughter in Barcelona. Friendship, not unaided by a good fee, induced him to travel by the Kansas.

He had been called on to attend Mr. Boyle and the wounded Chilean, and he reported now that the chief officer's injury was trifling, but the Chilean's wound might incapacitate him during the remainder of the voyage.

"So far as I can gather," he said, "Mr. Boyle had a narrow escape. Captain Courtney fired as the knife fell; otherwise our first mate would have attended his own funeral this evening."

"What was the cause of the affair?" Isabel asked.

"The man is not one of the ship's crew, I understand. His name is Frascuelo, and it appears that he was engaged to place some bunker coal aboard early this morning. He says that he was drugged and his clothes stolen, that he came off to the ship at a late hour and that some one flung him headlong into a hold which, luckily for him, was nearly full of cotton bales. He was stunned by the fall, and were it not for Captain Courtney's custom of having all hatches taken off and a thorough examination of the cargo made before the holds are finally battened down for the voyage Frascuelo might now be in a tight place in more than one sense."

Dr. Christobal was proud of his idiomatic English. He spoke the language with the careless freedom of a Londoner.

"Frascuelo seems to have passed an eventful day," said the little French count, who had been waiting anxiously for a chance to join in the conversation.

"But why should he want to kill poor Mr. Boyle?" inquired Isabel after giving the Frenchman an encouraging glance. Incidentally she smiled at Elsie.

"Why puzzle one's brains over foreign tongues when all the world speaks English?" she telegraphed.

"Mr. Boyle is a peculiar person," said the doctor dryly. "I happen to have known him during some years. You and I might regard him as a man of few words, but he has acquired a wonderful vocabulary for the benefit of sailor men. I believe he can swear in every known tongue. His accomplishment in that direction no doubt annoyed Frascuelo, who became frantic when he heard that the ship would not call at any South American port. I imagine, too, that the unfortunate fellow is still suffering from the drug which, he says, was administered to him. Anyway, you know how the affair terminated."

"I, for one, think some consideration might have been shown him," said Elsie.

"There is no time for argument when a Chilean draws a knife," Miss Maxwell.

"But if his story is true—"

"There never yet was a stowaway who did not invent a plausible yarn. Nevertheless I believe, and Mr. Boyle agrees with me, that the man is not lying."

"They told the ship's crew around on a new course, and the boys of the sailing son lit up the cabin table through the open starboard ports."

"Due south now, ladies!" cried Dr. Christobal cheerily. "We have rounded Cape Corrientes. We practically follow the seventy-sixth degree until we approach Evangelista Island. Thus far we are in the open sea. Then we pick our way through the strait discovered by that daring Portuguese, Fernando de Magalhães. If I am not mistaken," he added, glancing through the port windows, "we shall all have our staminos tested before twenty-four hours have passed."

Heads were turned and necks craned to see what had induced this unexpected prophecy. Behind the distant coast line the inner glimmers of the Andes threw heavenward their rugged outlines, with many a peak and glacier glistening in vivid colors against a sky so clear and blue that they seemed strangely near.

"Yes, this wonderful atmosphere of ours is enchanting," said the doctor when assailed by a chorus of doubts. "But it carries its deceptive smiles too far. The very beauty of the cordillera is a sign of storm. I am sorry to be a cranker, yet we are running into a gale."

"I shall ask the captain," pouted Isabel, rising.

The count twisted his mustache. He knew that both ladies were in the forbidden territory of the bridge when the fences occurred.

"You perhaps are a good sailor," said he, addressing Elsie.

"I am afraid to boast," she answered. "I have been in what was called a No. 8 gale, whatever that may mean, and weathered it splendidly, but I am older now."

"It cannot have been long ago, seeing that you recall it so exactly."

"It was six years ago, and I was seventeen then," said Elsie, her eyes wandering to the purple and gold of the far-off mountains.

"But you are English. You are therefore at home on the rolling dells," murmured M. de Valentin confidentially. She did not endeavor to interpret his expressive glance, though he seemed to convey more than he said.

"Not so much at home at sea as you are in my language," she replied, and she turned to Dr. Christobal, whom she had already known slightly in Valparaiso.

"Are you coming on deck?" she inquired. "I am sure you are a mine of information on Chile, and I want to extract some of the ore while the land is still visible. It is already assuming the semblance of a dream."

"You are not saying a last farewell to Valparaiso, I hope," said her elderly companion as they quitted the salon.

"I think so. I have no ties there save those of sentiment. I shall not return unless, if a doubtful fortune permits, I am able some day to revisit two graves which are dear to me."

There was a little catch in her voice, and the doctor was far too sympathetic to endeavor forthwith to divert her sad thoughts.

"I knew your father," he said gently. "He was a most admirable man, but quite unsuited to the environment of a new country, where the dollar is god, and an unstable deity at that. He was swindled outrageously by men who stand high in the community today."

That you, Miss Maxwell, with your knowledge of Spanish and your other acquisitions, should do better here than in Europe, provided, that is, you mean to earn your own living."

"I am proud to hear you speak well of my father," she said. "And I am well aware that he was badly treated in business. I fear, too, that his advocacy of the rights of the Indians brought him into disfavor. Of all his possessions the only remnant left to me is a barren mountain, with a slice of fertile valley, in the Quillota district. It yields me the magnificent revenue of $200 per annum."
